Disaster

Speaker: Randy Frank, Director of Marion County Emergency Management

Randy Frank

Randy Frank serves as the director of the Marion County Emergency Management Department and works as the Emergency Response Coordinator for Federal Emergency Management Agency Region VII, Disaster Mortuary Team, Health and Human Services and National Disaster Medical System.

In these assignments, Frank provides expertise in functional areas at the disaster site and supports incident response coordination teams during the initial assessment. He also provides expertise to state and local government emergency management officials during major emergencies. Frank will explain why it is critical to be prepared for a disaster or emergency. As we enter storm season in Kansas, this timely presentation will offer life-saving advice.

The Snigglefritz Band

Performers: Steve Hanneman & the Snigglefritz Band

The Snigglefritz Band has long been a part of the Hillsboro community and the surrounding area. The musicians have performed many years at the Hillsboro Arts and Crafts Fair, Kansas Sampler, Lindsborg's Mill Fest, Inman Museum fundraiser, senior centers and other civic happenings around the area. Hear some good old-fashioned German polka as we take time to fellowship and close out the school year.

We encourage everyone to bring a favorite finger food to share. Please join us for this special celebration and time of fellowship.

Chasing Storms

Speaker: Clyve Herbert and Jane O'Neill

Some people chase the sun, while others chase waves. Clyve Herbert and his partner Jane O'Neill chase storms all over the world.

Herbert and O'Neill normally live in Trentham in Central Victoria, Australia, but in 2013 they moved to the United States to pursue a passion for storm chasing.

"We study atmospherics on the plains in America, during the season which extends from March to June and then we return to Australia," the couple said.
